

Slovenia Biotech Hills – DEVELOPMENT PROMOTERS

A Center for the Future of Biotechnological and Pharmaceutical Development

The biotechnology sector, together with pharmaceuticals, already contributes more than 6% of Slovenia's GDP and employs over 50,000 people. Investments in R&D, exceeding 180 million euros annually, are growing, new buildings are being constructed, and the sector's exports surpass 30% of Slovenia's total exports. The establishment of the Slovenia Biotech Hills business accelerator is aimed at strengthening the sector, the economy, and Europe's strategic autonomy. With our collaboration, Slovenia will leverage its potential to become a key hub for development, investment, and production capabilities in the pharmaceutical and biotechnology fields, and the first choice for such business partnerships in Europe.

We invite you to join us as a development promoter member and contribute to strengthening the sector and the ecosystem as a whole. We will strive for strategic dialogue and government support, cooperation, and a reduction in administrative burdens, as well as for simpler procedures in the construction of facilities. We aim to enhance education, secure national and European co-financing, and address legislative issues based on the strategic plan until 2030, with the goal of shaping this sector within a comprehensive industrial strategy with a strategic focus. All of this is aimed at enhancing the economic competitiveness of the sector and Slovenia as a whole.

Below, we provide an overview of participation in the form of development promoters. This form of collaboration with the business accelerator is open to all interested companies:

1. As a development promoter, you will be an inclusive partner who seeks to participate more intensively in establishing the ecosystem in the pharmaceutical and biotechnology fields. Your past experiences and suggestions will help build and develop this initiative.
2. Participation in the business accelerator allows you to stay informed about the state of the sector through a monthly newsletter and regular communication with initiative bodies. You can always send your thoughts, questions, and suggestions via email: info@biotech.si.
3. You will have the opportunity to provide opinions and positions during the preparation of the business accelerator's position papers and to engage in policy-making regarding relations with key decision-makers in the country. We also offer development promoters networking opportunities and cooperation with our supporters, as well as participation in the business accelerator's annual event.

Development promoters are divided into two groups. The first group consists of companies whose annual revenue exceeds EUR 3 million. Annual partnership in this group amounts to EUR 3,000 excluding VAT.

The second group of development promoters consists of companies whose annual revenue does not exceed EUR 3 million. Annual partnership in this case amounts to EUR 1,500 excluding VAT.

Annual membership for development promoters is automatically renewed unless it is canceled in writing at least three months before the end of the active annual membership period.

We wish to become a development promoter of the Slovenia Biotech Hills business accelerator in the field of biotechnology
